

Statement of Philosophy

At Chiropractic Alchemy our goal is to help you achieve High Level Well-Being. We know that the lens through which a practitioner sees their client will affect their outcome. In this office we hold the following about you.

1. Your body is intelligent. It expresses pain and disease because something must change in your life, not because something is wrong with you. Symptoms are wake up calls to pay attention as life is speaking to you through your body.
2. Your body is fully capable of healing itself. It does not need an outside force to heal, but instead a higher organization of energy working inside your body. Highly organized energy increases coherence and function because all systems are working together.
3. Your spine is central to the health of your entire body. The condition of your spine determines how well your brain communicates with your body. If your spine is under too much tension the function of your body will be impaired.
4. Your heart is your biggest energy source for healing. When you get injured or feel a hurt your heart closes to protect you from feeling too much pain. Reopening your heart is the missing link for many to reclaim their health and life.

We practice underneath the paradigm of Reorganizational Healing. This is a cutting edge healthcare model that looks beyond just returning you to a prior state of function. It holds the vision instead of assisting you in reorganizing to an even higher state of function and well-being than ever before.

Our current medical healthcare model is fabulous for acute life-threatening crises, but does little to promote true well-being in body-mind-soul. Instead it attempts to piece-meal/patch-up pains and symptoms without addressing what their purpose is for your life.

Health and life challenges give you extraordinary opportunities to reorganize your body and life to your next level of well-being. Developing the skills to reorganize (instead of fix yourself) allows you to experience well-being that is beyond returning you to a previous state of health. You gain the inner resourcefulness needed to live a connected and empowered life.

Our Vision

A center where people transmute, alchemize and use their pain to become a new, expanded version of themselves. A place that assists in increasing each person's capacity to heal, create empowered choices and show up in the world as they truly desire. A community where people feel deeply met, safe, accepted and cared for, and where they come to see and love all aspects of their being so that a fuller expression of their essence is lived.

Our Mission

The mission of the center is to provide high level well-being care for people who want to live non-ordinary and extraordinary existences and contribute their gifts like crazy in this world.
